Progressives Desire Wheat Board First; Railroads Second

SECOND CONSIDERATION IS THE RESTORATION OF THE CROWN'S NEST AGREEMENT—RAILWAYS HOPING FOR A COMPROMISE—PRESENT WORKING AGREEMENT EXPIRES ON JULY 7 THIS YEAR

Ottawa.—Judging from their present attitude it will not be on the tariff that the real show-down, which it is known the government must sooner or later have with the Progressives, will come. There are some who think that at present look larger to the farmers than even the tariff, as it is a matter of fact third on their list of requirements, and it is not the first two they are quite willing to let tariff reductions stand for this season at least. First of all they want the wheat board. A committee of the house is now going into the question and hearing evidence for and against, although most yall of it for the board. Even the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, which comes before the committee shortly, will likely qualify its opposition.

Next on the list, and possibly the majority of the Progressives, is the restoration of the Crown's Nest agreement, which would put a heavy reduction on western freight rates. The present working agreement, which expires along from wartime, expires on July 7, and unless the government intervenes rates will go back to the old basis. There are sixty-six Progressives and Labor's in the house solidly for it, and they will have the support of a substantial body of Conservatives, but it is doubtful if the Progressives will accept anything less than the terms of the agreement. Counsel who have been here for some time past arguing the freight rates case before the railway commission, believe that the schedule of the Crown's Nest agreement will be restored, and that it will be made possible by a ten per cent reduction in wages. The railways will profit as a whole, and British Columbia will profit by having the private haul, which at the moment is fixed, lowered.

As for the Maritime clause, which has been clamoring for their rights since the restoration of the agreement, they certainly and if the western rates are lowered, the rate to Montreal will have to be granted.

Excellent Type Of Immigrants Coming to Can.

Large Families, Well Supplied With Funds, Coming to Make Their Home Here

One of the most pleasing and encouraging sights at the disembarkation from the Canadian Pacific's "Comanche" Montreal on her arrival at St. John this week from Liverpool, was a land party of one hundred and eleven, who were coming to make their homes in Canada. There were twenty families, composed of five and six sons, and a number of single men, and the majority of the family was a stalwart, the mother or mother-in-law, and a few children, healthy and wholesome. They are all Britishers, brought up on the farm and are no experiment.

They are of the class Canada is happy to receive and the Dominion is to be better for their having decided to make their homes here.

They arrived in Canada well supplied with means to live, and the cash possessions ranged from $4,500 to $15,000. This gives some idea of the solid class of immigrants that is welcoming to their shores.

Big Govt. Elevator For Pacific Coast

J. T. Jones, of the Board of Grain Commissioners, reiterated his statements made at Vancouver regarding the grain handling in the Pacific port. He stated that after going through into the matter of the port, he would be willing to recommend the construction of a storage elevator for grain in Vancouver, if the government deemed it advisable.

"I have taken the question up with the Vancouver Merchants' Exchange," he said, "and I think they will be willing to have a Canadian grain handler in the only western port in Canada. It is reasonable to believe that I will do my best to help the port along."

In reply to a question, Mr. Jones said that it was probable an elevator would be constructed on the waterfront, and that it would be a terminal for the Canadian National Railway.

THE REDCLIFF REVIEW, THURSDAY, APRIL 6, 1922.

A SUCCESSFUL SESSION.

The first session of the Farmers' government in Alberta has now passed into history, and Premier Greenfield and his cabinet appear to have conducted the affairs of the province as successfully and as satisfactorily as any of their predecessors.

There were both party opponents and party papers who had quite made up their minds that nothing good could come from such a government, but as the session proceeded numerous cases were brought to light where "fools who came to scoff remained to pray."

While very little complaint can be found with the Greenfield government for the manner in which it carried on during its first session in harness, yet it is just possible that the largest percentage of disappointed and disgruntled ones may be found among the rank and file of the Progressive supporters themselves. We do not mean to say for a minute that this feeling is general, but there are no doubt some who appear to have had the idea that the going into power of a farmers' government meant nothing short of the complete emancipation of Alberta farmers from all the ills, ailments, overdrafts, droughts, etc., to which they had been subjected for years past. To these it may appear that the new government is not introducing new legislation rapidly enough, or making money and easier to get hold of. It might be well to remember in this connection, that although we now have an agrarian government in this province, its members have not yet been successful in making money grow on the trees around the legislative buildings.

That prospects are bright for the favorable administration of labor legislation now on the statute book and that the drafting of further social legislation is assured through the action of the government in sanctioning the creation of a bureau of labor, was the opinion expressed by Fred White, Labor member for Calgary.

Viewing the results of the session from the labor members' point of view, Mr. White said: "We look for more sympathetic administration of labor legislation now on the statute books. With the minimum wage board, labor will not fare too badly until the fall session, when there will be a general revision of the compensation act. From that time on we can judge the farmers' attitude toward labor."

Mr. White declared that he in common with the two other labor members who are not in the government, F. M. Christophers, of Rocky Mountain, and W. G. Johnston of Medicine Hat, felt that it was too early in the game to pass judgment on the new government and declared that until the government had been given a greater opportunity to prove its ability, those who would criticize should be most lenient and make due allowance for inexperience in administrative matters.

The official opposition has had no serious criticism to offer, the one Conservative in the house appears to have supported the government as often as he opposed it, and Labor has been well pleased. On the whole it can fairly be assumed that this, the first session of the reformed administration, has been a very successful and satisfactory one.

WILL CONTINUE TO FIGHT FOR LOWER RATES.

Mr. Carvell appears to be displeased with the press and people of the west because of their attitude towards the Board of Railway Commissioners. In this attitude Mr. Carvell is making one big mistake. Neither the people nor the press of the west have any very serious complaints against the railway commission. Most of the criticism from this part of the dominion is against the chairman of the commission, Mr. Carvell himself. There was a time when the railway commission was looked upon as one of the great institutions in Canada; the reason of this was because it approached all complaints and controversial questions in an open minded way and dealt with them on their merits. As a result of this way of doing business both the railways and the public got fair treatment, and both were—in most cases—well satisfied.

When the present chairman, however, assumed office, he appeared to think from the start that to be chairman of the Railway Commission meant also to be a sort of godfather to all sundry life has been following along these lines ever since, and as a result western Canada has had ample reasons for believing that Mr. Carvell's sympathies have always been more with the railroads than with the people.

There is not the slightest doubt that the present freight rates in the west are strangling almost every branch of industrial activities, and none to a greater extent than the farming industry. Realizing this the west is putting up a stubborn fight for a reduction in rates, and it will continue to do so no matter whether it displeases Mr. Carvell or not.

THE COAL STRIKE.

There is one thing for which we may be thankful in connection with the present coal strike and that is that the winter weather is practically over and the suffering will not be as great as it otherwise might have been.

It does appear very strange, however, that with all our boasted present day advancement in legislation, thought, ideals and ideas, there can not be some better, easier, more economic and more humane way of settling disagreements between employers and employees than by a strike such as the miners are at present engaged in.

This week is being observed as clean up week. This means that a special request is being issued to the householders in town to have their back yards and lanes cleaned up of all the winter's accumulation of rubbish and refuse. This is a matter which should be attended to before the real hot weather and fly season arrives. Besides being a safeguard against fire to have all paper and boxes disposed of, it is also a safeguard against disease to have all decayed matter removed.

As the tree planting season is now approaching it is about time some move were made locally to take part in tree planting movement which is being carried on throughout Canada this spring.

Coal Miners in U.S. and Canada
Now on Strike

600,000 UNION MINERS AND 100,000 NON-UNION WORKERS QUIT
JOB LAST FRIDAY—12,000 MINERS IN ALBERTA STOP WORK MONDAY

Approximately 600,000 coal miners quit work last Friday night to enforce new wage contracts, according to union reports from all bituminous and anthracite fields. The idle mines include 500,000 union men and some 100,000 non-union men, according to union tabulation.

A number of coal diggers in Illinois and other places left the mines at the close of work, although the strike began officially at midnight. The United States government decided not to take any action at present, as the situation was not deemed critical. The only crisis in the strike area was in Kentucky, where 5,000 union men continued work because their contracts run another year.

Kansas miners were ordered out, despite an order of the industrial court extending the present contract a month. The union officers ordered 15,000 men to remain in the mines to protect property from damages incident to non-operation.

The operators and miners came to an agreement for keeping in the pump men and others to protect the mines at salaries prevailing. The eastern mines were not affected.

Government reports indicate goodly coal supplies on hand, estimated to last fifty-one days in certain areas at least. Railroad officials asserted plans had been made to suspend certain freight trains, especially on coal roads. It is estimated that 18,000 railmen in Pennsylvania will be out of work as a result of the strike.

Twelve thousand miners quit work Monday morning in the mines in Alberta, following the failure of operators and U.M.W.A. officials of District 18 to come to any agreement. All members of the union, however, who are required for the maintenance of the mines, will remain at their posts at the old scale of wages. This much was decided in the afternoon by the operators, who met in all-day session.

Many U.S. Farmers
Coming to Canada

Reports have reached Washington that Canadian officials expect a heavy migration of farmers from the United States into Canada because of the depressed condition of agriculture in the United States. These reports are viewed with apprehension by the members forming the agricultural bloc in congress.

The bloc will urge against that it is all the more important to pass liberal credit legislation and other legislation to relieve agricultural conditions in order to prevent the United States losing to Canada many of its best practical farmers.

Redemption Time Extended Until May 1 This Year

IMPORTANT PROVISIONS IN NEW TAX SALE ACT TO BECOME EFFECTIVE SHORTLY

Edmonton.—Important provisions in the new Tax Sale Relief Act, just passed by the legislature which provided for extension of time for redemption of crown lands from tax sale, are called to the attention of residents of the municipalities.

Under this new act, the time for the redemption of all lands included in plans registered in the land titles offices, and all lands included in the corporate limits of towns and villages, has been extended until May 1, of this year. In this connection, the secretary-treasurer of a town or village or municipality is required to publish a notice to this effect twice in a publication in the district, or in one which has a general circulation in the district and to call attention to the fact that lists of these lands are in arrears can be procured from him.

In the case of farm lands, which were included in the 1920 tax sale, the time for redemption is extended until Nov. 1 next, and the procedure in this connection is outlined in the new act. In the case of cities, the same procedure applies as in the case of towns and villages.

CRERAR SAYS WANT TEMPORARY WHEAT BOARD

Gives This as View of Council of Agriculture—Is Not Opinion of All Progressive Members—Other Organizations to Be Considered

The Canadian council of agriculture, according to Mr. Crerar, favors a temporary wheat board and not a permanent wheat board. This was the statement made before the standing committee on agriculture, at the first meeting Friday afternoon. This caused some remark among the members of the Progressive party from Alberta, but the statement was not questioned. One farmer wrote to the committee that the council did not represent all the farmers.

In dealing with the wheat board, Mr. McWhorter, minister of agriculture, assured the committee that the government was not dictating the council.

Mr. Stevens, on behalf of Mr. McWhorter, said they would lay their proposal of a voluntary pool before the committee.

Recognizing that the council of agriculture represents the grain growers, the milling interests, and the grain exchanges place their position before the committee.

Organizations representing the grain growers, the milling interests, and the grain exchanges, and probably the banks, are to be asked to name representatives to appear before the house committee on agriculture dealing with the matter of reconstituting the Canada wheat board, and in so representing will be summoned to Ottawa to give evidence on the date that the committee can hear them. This was the decision of the sub-committee named by the main committee meeting to consider procedure.

Live Stock Mar- ket in February

There was a marked decline in the average prices of live stock in Canada in the month of February this year, compared with the quotations for the same month last year, when there appeared to have been somewhat of a rush to the market. At the five principal markets in the country, namely, Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, Calgary and Edmonton, the receipts this year and last year, in February, were respectively: cattle, 24,832, and 31,789; calves, 29,250 and 6,016; hogs, 60,146 and 48,671; and sheep, 18,478 and 14,446, the largest number in each case being for this year. The average decline this year in prices per hundredweight for February compared with the same month last year at the five markets was: cattle $1.93; calves $2.30 hogs $2.09, and sheep $1.65.

Addressing a labor meeting in Halifax on Sunday evening, Secretary J. McLaughlin of the Maritime Union of Workers of Nova Scotia said he would welcome any tribunal to investigate the trouble in the coal fields if the investigation was only through.

Canada Wants Immigrants Of The Right Kind

NEW CANADIAN COMMISSIONER SAYS THERE WILL BE DISCRIMINATE SELECTION

London.—The Canadian Pacific Steamship Company, of British, with Hon. P. C. Larkin, Canada's new high commissioner aboard, arrived at Liverpool early Saturday amidst the fire-storm of a very late English spring. Mr. Larkin was received by a group of porters, with cheery cries of "Welcome," Mr. Larkin deprecating the idea that he could tell them anything by striking, "So far as my new work is concerned," Mr. Larkin said, "I am here very much in the capacity of a learner."

While Mr. Larkin had no hesitation in declaring that Canada was perhaps the most prosperous country in the world under existing conditions, not excepting the United States, he asserted with equal readiness that she had no desire to accept immigrants indiscriminately, and was most unwilling to take to the population of the towns and cities.

A semi-royal dinner was placed at Mr. Larkin's disposal for the railway trip from Liverpool to London. In London he was met by the various provincial agents-general and other Canadian residents of the metropolis and was given a most cordial reception.

Right Hon. J. Ross Byrne, M.P. for Plating, Manchester, the well known labor leader, happened to be travelling on the same train as Mr. Larkin to London, and he had half an hour's chat with the new Canadian high commissioner.

TO PUSH TRADE WITH MEXICO

The question of appointing trade commissioners to Mexico is under consideration by the government, Hon. James Robb, minister of trade and commerce, told H. H. Stevens, Conservative (Vancouver Courier) in the house of commons on Monday evening. The government is also considering inaugurating a steamship service from Canada to Mexico both at the Atlantic and Pacific.

Mr. Stevens, on behalf of Mr. McWhorter, said they would lay their proposal of a voluntary pool before the committee.

Railways Will Cut Rates on Basic commodities

Montreal, April 3.—Though denying that he was in the confidence of the prime minister of the government, Mr. W. W. Kite, M.P. for Cape Breton, said that he had heard the suggestion made that an agreement may be arrived at under which basic commodities will be carried for free over the railways of Canada.

Mr. Kite thought the Progressives were moderate in their demands, which he formulated as: Return of natural resources; establishment of a wheat tariff; reduction of rates and downward revision of the tariff.

In his general remarks, Mr. Kite congratulated the people here that they had not the "night of prohibition" in Quebec province and he believed that Montreal would not only be the great commercial center of Canada, but also the great center of industrial plants.

WILL LEAD WORLD IN GRAIN STORAGE

Fort William and Port Arthur will lead the world in grain storage capacity this year, according to the Winnipeg Tribune. At the present time they have capacity of 53,293,000 bushels, but with contemplated additions this will be increased to 57,793,000 bushels. Minneapolis and St. Paul have a capacity of 50,000,000 bushels.

Mr. Stevens, on behalf of Mr. McWhorter, said they would lay their proposal of a voluntary pool before the committee.

Recognizing that the council of agriculture represents the grain growers, the milling interests, and the grain exchanges place their position before the committee.

Organizations representing the grain growers, the milling interests, and the grain exchanges, and probably the banks, are to be asked to name representatives to appear before the house committee on agriculture dealing with the matter of reconstituting the Canada wheat board, and in so representing will be summoned to Ottawa to give evidence on the date that the committee can hear them. This was the decision of the sub-committee named by the main committee meeting to consider procedure.

Live Stock Mar- ket in February

There was a marked decline in the average prices of live stock in Canada in the month of February this year, compared with the quotations for the same month last year, when there appeared to have been somewhat of a rush to the market. At the five principal markets in the country, namely, Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, Calgary and Edmonton, the receipts this year and last year, in February, were respectively: cattle, 24,832, and 31,789; calves, 29,250 and 6,016; hogs, 60,146 and 48,671; and sheep, 18,478 and 14,446, the largest number in each case being for this year. The average decline this year in prices per hundredweight for February compared with the same month last year at the five markets was: cattle $1.93; calves $2.30 hogs $2.09, and sheep $1.65.

Addressing a labor meeting in Halifax on Sunday evening, Secretary J. McLaughlin of the Maritime Union of Workers of Nova Scotia said he would welcome any tribunal to investigate the trouble in the coal fields if the investigation was only through.

Lease Renewals On Conditions Recommended

ALBERTA STOCK GROWERS SUBMIT REPORT TO SASKATCHEWAN CONVENTION

Saskatoon.—The renewal of grazing leases to holders showing good faith in the use of the pasture, and the purchase of adjoining land, and the installation of lamp ovens, and the abolition of the system of communal landholdings are recommended in a report made to the western livestock conference by the Stock Growers' Protective Association of Alberta.

It was presented by E. L. Richardson, of Calgary, the association expressing its regret at being unable, through financial stringency, to send delegates. The report also recommended the removal of the British cattle embargo, and the establishment of world markets at Winnipeg, Toronto or Montreal, on the basis of the Chicago market, where stockmen demand alone.

Shaw Again Declared Elected in Calgary

Justices Stuart and Ives, before whom the election petition of H. B. Bennett was argued some time ago, handed down their judgment written by Mr. Justice Stuart, and concurred in by Mr. Justice Ives. The learned judges, after an exhaustive survey of the points in the petition and election of the election law bearing thereon, came to the conclusion that J. T. Shaw, independent candidate, was entitled to the West Calgary seat in the federal parliament. Counsel for Mr. Bennett, A. Macleod Sinclair, K.C., announced that an appeal will be taken to the Supreme Court of Canada in due course.

Until an adverse decision is given by the Supreme Court, Mr. Shaw will be the sitting member for West Calgary.

A 19-year-old bank clerk whose name was not disclosed, an employee of the Royal Bank of Canada, was arrested Saturday for attempting to steal $6,300 in cash, which was discovered in a new leather belt about his waist when a search of his person was made at headquarters.

Stock Growers Of West Have Four Problems

THESE ARE MARKETING, BREEDING, FEEDING AND SELECTION OF AREAS

The following is from a report of the Saskatchewan stock growers' meeting held in Saskatoon last week.

Four big problems presented themselves to the conference for solution in order to make the livestock industry of the west permanent and at the same time profitable to the rancher and the farmer.

These were: The question of marketing, the question of breeding, the question of feeding and livestock management in general, and the question of the type of cattle for any particular area.

The different committees to whom had been entrusted the task of considering the various problems reported to the conference as a whole and as a result of the acceptance of the recommendations made by the committees, the conference made announcements of an important character. These announcements were summarized under the following headings:

1. The necessity of opening the United States markets for the surplus cattle of the west.
2. The necessity of removing the present British embargo.
3. Necessary for effective organization of the western livestock trade and the creation of means for co-operative action as regards contracts for space and selling cattle.
4. The importance of the keeping of livestock into the system of farming in western Canada.
5. Through survey by western provincial government of climatic, soil and marketing conditions of the various districts of each of the provinces with the conclusion, advice and encouraging community effort along lines suitable to each particular district.
6. Importance of community effort in breeding.

Should Force the Railroads to Hand Over Arable Lands

The government should force the railways to place on the market all the arable waste land which they are at present holding for speculation and the construction of new lines. Sir Clifford Sifton, former minister of the interior in the Laurier government, during the course of an address on immigration problems before the Canadian club at Toronto.

Sir Clifford also denounced any suggestion of housing artisans, mechanics and other city dwellers who desire to migrate to Canada. The only policy which would be successful was that of inducing in self-interest and incentive farmers from the British isles, together with peasants from Hungary and other such countries.

Sir Clifford referred to the Thunder Bay case, south of Port Arthur and was criticized as being over-enthusiastic about the 60,000 settlers, and said that the Peace River country and the district along the Hudson Bay railway would provide valuable land for agricultural settlement. Peasants from Galicia, Bohemia and Hungary would be good settlers, Sir Clifford said, and they could be got by hundreds of thousands.

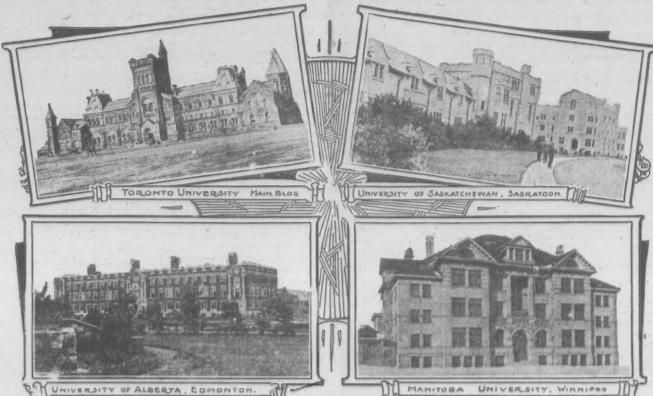

However, he suggested that if a move to bring them to Canada could be handled in Europe.

A GRAIN GROWERS ENTER BY-ELECTION

The Saskatchewan grain growers' association provided contest money with nominating a candidate to contest the next seat at the bye-election which has been caused through the death of Stephen Murray. This was decided at a meeting called at Abbey, Sask. This will be the first constituency entered by the grain growers as a party since their decision to enter provincial politics. The candidate will be selected at a convention to be called later.

LARGE SUBSIDIES GIVEN TO C.N.R.

William Irvine (Labor) East Calgary was informed in the house of commons that the Canadian Northern railway was paid by the Dominion government on Sept. 7, 1920. The total amount of the cash subsidy paid to this railway company was $31,670,016. The balance of the deficit paid by the government for the operation of the railway was $40,000,000.

NATION BUILDING IN CANADA Universities to Follow the Railroad in Binding East and West Together For the Cause of National Unity

In turn, must be pioneers. The realization of this fact has been a living force in the fine movement of nation building in Canada. The universities are working in a great work at Winnipeg, Edmonton, and Saskatoon and Vancouver.

In the making of the Canadian nation so far as the avenue of transport and communication have worked towards completion of the structure the foundation stone of which was the Act of Dominion Federation Canada's national history is founded and fostered by the political and physical links that bind east and west by the railway and the stage now possible at their provincial institutions. Through these scholarships a constant stream of the brightest and most ambitious of western university students will be enabled to spend some time in Eastern Canada and thus become familiar with methods of life and thought there. As stated by Mr. E. W. Beatty, President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, in his letter to Sir Robert Falconer, President of Toronto University, announcing the granting of the three scholarships, "The movement of students that will obviously be of benefit, not only to the students, but also to the communities in which they will afterwards live."

U.S. Paper Alarmed At Canada Boycott

The Wall Street Journal in a strong editorial points out the inconsistency of the tariff advocates at Washington so far as the effect of their proposals upon trade with Canada goes.
It seems as if every product of Canada must be taxed to a prohibitive point," says the paper. "That country is a conservatively new and must buy large quantities of manufactured goods which are to be paid for with farm products. There is only one other country in the world that buys so much from the United States. And yet, we are aiming to treat this important customer in a way no merchant with a modicum of common sense would treat

The what d'ville at the Young Men's club last Tuesday evening proved most interesting under the new rule of keeping the same partner throughout the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Winfield were the successful couple, winning by a good margin. During the evening refreshments were served and a most enjoyable evening spent.

Weather conditions of the past week were such as to help considerably one of his customers. Markets are as essential for farm property as for that of industry. By these who would sell must also buy. We cannot forbid everyone to come into our domain and at the same time ask them to buy, and buy heavily of us. Human nature must be made over before we can take over trading and give nothing.

In all probability the list will become law. It will be well for the farmers to be a little more or two less sure whether it has been a tonic or a habit-forming drug.
